OPENING

As we graduate, it is easy to reflect on the details of our undergraduate years spent at Lehigh. In many ways we are a product of the experiences and opportunities we have explored. The campus, its buildings, memorable professors, countless friends, clubs, and athletics have shaped our experience. Each memory is a small detail from a larger collection. Like a small Gothic ornament on Packard Lab, particular moments make up our life as a student.

And sometimes seemingly insignificant events will leave a lasting impression for life. In retrospect, a late night chat with a best friend, a particular class when a concept finally clicked in your head, or the day you helped lead your team to a victory are beautiful details that we will remember in the future.

FEATURES

A crowd rushes out of Packard Lab and disperses across the mountain that forms our campus. Each student takes a different path hoping to reunite with classmates later that day. Memories are made everyday at Lehigh, and hopefully many of these memories will be treasured for years to come.

Every moment at Lehigh symbolizes a new experience. What details symbolize your college experience? For some it is the International Bazaar. For others it is the contests that make up the spring days during Greek Week. Dressing up for Halloween, and family visits during Family Weekend also spark student interest. However, annual traditions such as the Lehigh-Lafayette football game often overshadow other events in students' minds.

This year we were lucky enough to form new experiences by welcoming change, both on and off campus. New statues decorated the pathways, and new social policies were implemented on the hill. The start of a new millennium allowed many to celebrate in exotic places and make a fresh start. All of these memories and experiences make up the details that shape our future.

Halloween

A Ghost's Night Out

Once a year late in October, Lehigh's campus is covered with masked men announcing it is Halloween again. We go out to parties, we compare costumes, and we allow ourselves to be something we don't get to be everyday...we get to be children.

Halloween is a time to reinvent yourself. You can be whoever you want. You can play out your old childhood fantasies. But most of all Halloween is a time when the unusual happens. Halloween is about picking out a costume and going out into the night to meet all the other pretenders. When we are little Halloween is about candy and ghost stories, and as we grow up all the scariness of Halloween loses its luster. Yet on this one night we allow ourselves to open up to the possibility of ghosts and demons. We walk home a little faster looking over our shoulders and we leave the lights on. We are reminded that no matter how old we get, there will always be that little child inside of us, just waiting for an opportunity to believe in bigger dreams. Halloween gives us that opportunity if only for one night.

International Bazaar

Lehigh hosted its thirteenth annual International Bazaar on April 29, 2000. With the sun shining brightly from noon until late afternoon, it was another successful day in front of Fair-Mart. The event brought out many people to celebrate the diversity on campus. It gave a better glimpse of different cultures and traditions. There was a high turn out including people who were studying in the library and students who came to support the event. The different clubs exhibited their cultures through various ethnic dishes and traditions.

The afternoon began with a fashion show followed by numerous dances. The Asian Culture Society performed a routine that began with a traditional dance and led into a modern dance. Along with seven Asian women, I had the pleasure of taking part in this dance number. The dance we performed portrayed Asian women as graceful and free spirited. After a semester of hard work, it was great to have some fun. The rest of the afternoon, I enjoyed watching all the shows performed by other groups. The Chinese Culture Society performed a skit filled with martial arts moves, where two members pseudo fought each other. An Indian dance, "Kehta He Mera Dil," was performed by Eshita Bakshi, chairperson and president of the Global Union. Featured foods included crepes provided by the French Connection and German sausages. Overall, the International Bazaar achieved its goal in bringing the campus closer together. It was a wonderful event celebrating the diversity at Lehigh.

Lehigh-Lafayette

After graduating and looking back on all the football games that you attended, the ones most remembered will be those against Lafayette. For the past four years Lehigh has won and hopefully you were there to see it.

There is no show of Lehigh spirit like that which comes out at Lehigh-Lafayette competitions. Fans ranging from Lehigh parents, to Lehigh students and alumni made a point of coming out on this Saturday late in November, just to show how much spirit Lehigh really has. If there is only one football game you make it to all year, it would most likely be the game against Lafayette. And once again it was not a disappointing show, as Lehigh came out victorious 14-12. So until next year's game, Lehigh has won the rivalry.

Greek Week

Coming Together

Snow melts, flowers bloom and the weather becomes nicer. This means one thing–it's spring, and at Lehigh spring announces the arrival of Greek Week. Fraternity and sorority pledge classes unite as one as they compete to be the week's champion. Each day a different event is held to challenge members' skills and teamwork. From the beginning of the week at Delt's Dodgeball Tournament to the middle of the week at Pike Dream Girl, students work hard to display their Greek pride and showcase their house's new pledge class. Newer events such as Crow Gladiators and the Kappa Sig Date Auction have quickly become favorites, while traditional contests such as Sammy Bed Races and the Sigma Nu Dance Contest are still a crowd pleaser. Everyone gathers on the final day of Greek Week to be entertained by the Theta Xi Airband Show and celebrate the week's winners. This year the trophies went to Lambda Chi Alpha and Pi Beta Phi.

Freshman Move-In

"As I got back to my car, my father told me that there were girls helping to carry things up to my room. I thought this place was wonderful."

Entering the parking lot, I was amazed to see all the people that were already there. Parents and kids unloading all their clothes, computers, and other various paraphernalia that was needed to live in our new home. As my parents and I began unloading my things, I figured it would be extremely difficult moving in. Would my roommate be cool? Would we get along? How about the people in my hall? These and hundreds of other questions were racing through my mind.

I walked up three floors to my room and my legs were already burning. People were all around and to say the least, it was really overwhelming. I exchanged many "hellos" and "how ya doings" to countless numbers of people, before I got to my room. Everyone seemed really nice, and I was beginning to look even more forward to beginning life here. As I got back to my car, my father told me that there were girls helping to carry things up to my room. I thought this place was wonderful. Apparently the sorority girls were helping the freshman unload their things. Eventually I got to my last item, a huge box which contained a refrigerator. At first, it was easy to carry, but as I got to the stairs it became extremely hard to maneuver around the people and up the steps. An entering freshman, seeing my struggle, came out of nowhere to help and carried the box with me to my room. As I thanked him, I thought how this place was so nice and knew that it was going to be a great year. Everyone in my hall turned out to be great people, and my roommate and I are best friends. My college experience at Lehigh so far has been the best of my life.

Community Service

The Community Service Center takes part in a variety of programs as well as providing opportunities for Lehigh students to get involved in their local and national community.

Our main programs include:

America Reads/Counts: this federally funded program places students in local elementary and middle schools as tutors and teaching assistants.

Alternative Spring Break: this program offers students a different option for Spring Break, with trips to various states planned in conjunction with Habitat for Humanity.

Culture Connections: this program encourages students to share information about their culture and ethnicity with local elementary and middle school children.

Southside Tutoring: this program offers students the opportunity to tutor and mentor children in our local neighborhood center.

Volunteer Experience: this pre-orientation program is for incoming freshman. It offers hands-on experience of service here at Lehigh and a head start on college life.

Greek Experiences: this program assists the various Greek organizations with fulfilling their required community service commitments.

Parents' Weekend

This year, Parents' Weekend was held from the 22nd to the 24th of October. The weekend was filled with events like tailgates followed by a football game, as well as other events. Below some students tell their stories of Parents' Weekend.

"As a member of the choir, my parents saw the product of the many hours of rehearsal. I personally cherish family time since I live far from home, so this weekend provided an opportunity to catch up on each others lives."
Mary Butow, 2000

"It was great to get home from class to find my car washed and my frig filled with groceries."
Mark Yacoub, 2001

"Preparing for the Alpha Phi Parents' Night activity has been very demanding, but also rewarding. We feel this will allow our parents to gain a glimpse into our sorority life and how important it is to all of us."
Amie Kutzner, 2001

"My parents were impressed with Lehigh and my father is very happy with my decision to come here. I'm from California, so it's far from home and my parents didn't really know what Lehigh was like. My Dad was most impressed by the football game because everyone was so into it and had a lot of spirit."

Spring Break

A Moment in Paradise

The beginning of March it hits all of us. Some are a little bit more affected than others... SPRING FEVER. When it comes around to March we all look forward to warm weather and a short escape from reality. This year the weather managed to fool us time and time again, going from winter jacket to shorts weather. We'd get up in the morning thinking the weather would be like yesterday's only to find out that it wasn't. So when Spring Break finally did come around, we were ready for it. Some of us headed home for some relaxation while others of us headed off to warm climates. Whether we visited friends or traveled abroad we all had a good time. Such a good time that it was hard to come back to school. But we all returned to Lehigh with memories of the times that we spent together. So good bye to Spring Break 2000 it's been fun.

Tailgates

Pregame Festivities

"Tailgates will forever be the best party at Lehigh, and I am already looking forward to coming back for my first tailgates as an alumni."

Things here at Lehigh have changed over the past four years. Gone are the days of party hopping from house to house on Friday and Saturday nights. However, the one thing that we still have, and we can come back to after we graduate, is TAILGATES. Oh yes, good old tailgates. It may have lost some of it's luster with the banishment of such classics as Schlitz n' Slide, but it is still the most fun you can have in two hours. We'll all remember the first day we walked out onto that glorious playing field at Goodman. My eyes have never seen such a beautiful sight. On that field we are all athletes of a different game; a game called tailgating. Tailgates are the place where we couldn't wait to bring our friends from other schools, because tailgates keep alive our reputation for being a party school. Where else do you see a group of mothers shotgunning a beer at parents' weekend, and fellow idiots dressed in ridiculous outfits. Tailgates are the one place where we can still party the way we used to back when we were freshmen, when we didn't know where to go. Tailgates will forever be the best party at Lehigh, and I am looking forward to coming back for our first tailgates as an alumni.

Winter Snow Days

"All in all, it was fun. I don't think I will ever forget the Lehigh Snow Day. It will probably be the only one I ever experience!"

"When I heard the announcement of the school closing, I joined in the hall celebration, then went right back to bed... so much for my 8:10 bio lecture! When I got up, I grabbed a garbage bag from the trash room and joined my friends outside for a snowball fight in the Lower Cents quad and a couple of runs down the Zoellner Hill. Some people used trays, "borrowed" from the 'Bone, to sled. I was really happy that school was cancelled. I had a chance to sleep in late, play in the snow, and get some work done. All in all, it was fun. I don't think I will ever forget the Lehigh snow day. It will probably be the only one I ever experience!"

New Sights Across Campus

Over the summer we hear rumors about the new improvements that have been made in our absence. This year we returned to many changes in the structure of campus. A new brick walkway was laid so we no longer have to worry about being hit from behind on their mad dash to class. A new fountain and plaza was built in front of Chandler-Ullmann so we can hang out before class. Although no one can quite remember what it looked like before, we admit that the fountain is a nice touch. Then there was "THE STATUE," a controversial piece during the beginning of the school year. We didn't know what the statue was trying to symbolize, but we knew that it wasn't "the typical Lehigh student". When we found out the real story behind the statue, we felt sorry about our dislike of it. There was also a new purpose for Lamberton Hall. An alternative Friday night's worth of activities was now available to us including concerts, comedians, and DJs. Lastly there were the new wooden Adirondack chairs that were strategically located across the lawn of the University Center and in front of Packard Lab. On warm afternoons the chairs are filled with students studying or just relaxing.

Study Abroad

Overseas Adventures

Studying in a different country gives students an opportunity to expand their horizons and learn about foreign cultures. Students also take advantage of additional travel opportunities, while meeting new people and exploring historic cities.

Leaving the comforts of home behind, many students decide to pack their bags and take a break from the Lehigh Valley. Some venture off into the tropics of Australia, while others prefer to study within the scenic borders of downtown London. Whatever their choice may be, students return home with bundles of pictures, souvenirs and memories to last a lifetime. Although Lehigh students often miss their friends and family, the opportunities that await them abroad exceed all of their expectations.

Sundaze

A Day In the Sun

Sundaze, which is sponsored by University Productions, was held on Saturday, May 6th, from noon until 6 p.m. at Sayre Field. Four bands performed including: Smokestack Lightning, a Lehigh band consisting of Mered Parnes, Paul Johe, Will Little, Eric Koester, Joe McCabe, and Brian Gilman; Granian, a New Jersey band; Sugar Hill Gang, a rap group; and Leftover Salmon, a bluegrass band.

The afternoon music festival also featured many carnival events including a dunk tank fundraiser sponsored by Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority, gladiator jousting, an inflatable climbing tower, and a moonwalk. The day was warm and sunny and it attracted a large crowd of sunbathers, music fans, frisbee throwers, and students who wanted to relax before the beginning of exams. ACADEMICS

All of us are here at Lehigh for different reasons, but we are all receiving an education that will be valuable to our futures. Throughout our years at college, we learn through various experiences both in the classroom and during daily activities. Our professors and peers help shape who we are and what we will become. Lectures, labs, studios, experimental studies, and recitations are only part of our learning at Lehigh. We also grow and evolve outside of the classroom by participating in extracurricular, leadership, and volunteer activities. Each day we learn something new about ourselves as we engage in our lives at Lehigh. We are all a part of Lehigh and Lehigh is a part of all of us.

ATHLETICS

The extra lap in the pool, squeezing in a lift at the gym, one more sprint on the field, or just staying at practice till you get it right. These are some of the minor details that go into Lehigh Athletics. The laughter, friendships, memories, and victories are what the athletes and coaches will come to remember. Together these details form the Lehigh Athletics Program.

This past year proved to continue Lehigh's tradition. Many of this year's teams were able to fine tune their game. The football team repeated their success from last year and were Co-Champions of the Patriot League, once again advancing to the national playoffs. The women's swim team regained control of the league, while shattering eleven school records. The wrestling team experienced the most successful season in school history, with a program best 19 win season and four All-Americans. Lehigh Athletics continues to build on the strong foundation of success provided by its extraordinary student-athletes who exemplify hard work, determination, and close attention to the details.

Men's SOCCER

Lehigh began the season defeating nationally ranked Richmond University, Syracuse University and Princeton University, who won the Ivy's and qualified for the NCAA tournament. Following an unsuccessful tournament at the University of North Carolina, Lehigh went on a slide in the absence of senior co-captain Kevin Jackson. Lehigh struggled to find consistency in its lineup due to injuries. In spite of these setbacks, Lehigh found ways to win yet never managed to find a winning streak that would enable them to have momentum going in to Patriot League competition. Their final opportunity to qualify for the playoffs resulted in a heart wrenching game versus Navy where Lehigh thoroughly dominated play, out-shooting Navy 29-12 only to walk off the field with a 1-0 loss. Consequently, with six different lineups in six league games, Lehigh managed to finish tied for fourth in the league in points with a 2-3-1 record. Lehigh finished 8-7-2, its fourth winning season in a row and was ranked in the top 10 of the Mid-Atlantic Region for all but one week during the season. Five players received All-Patriot league recognition with co-captains Kevin Jackson (Sr.) and Andy Soisson (Jr.) earning first team honors and Andy Casey (Jr.), Spencer Gerberding (Sr.) and Dan Perciballi (Fr.) earning second team honors. Freshman Ryan Grzeszczak was voted the Patriot League Rookie of the Year for the first time since Kevin Jackson won the honor in 1996. Lehigh watched the emergence of some exceptional performances by its freshman class with Perciballi and Evan Bruno leading the team in scoring with six goals and five assists each while Grzeszczak lead the Patriot League in goals against average.

Finding Ways To Win

Spotlight

The senior class of Kevin Jackson, Spencer Gerberding, Brady Ryan, Jeff Correll, Nate Laver and Scott Regina has made a tremendous impact on this program. Since their arrival, Lehigh Soccer has experienced four consecutive winning seasons, has established itself as one of the top Division I programs in the region and a respected program nationally. This legacy will endure, as the Lehigh Men's Soccer team will continue to find ways to win and will soon bring home a championship for current and former players to celebrate. With a four-year record of 41-24-7, Lehigh seniors have set a standard of success for all to follow.

women's SOCCER

Lehigh finished the 1999 season with a 7-9-1 record, the second best record in Lehigh Women's Soccer history. The team also broke school records for shutouts in a season with four and lowest "goals against" total with 31. The season started out with the loss of last year's leading scorer, Natalie Ciampa (Sr.), who broke her leg during one of the first games. Lehigh rebounded from the loss and was lead in scoring by freshman Michelle Adams with 10 points and senior Stephanie Cesario with 7 points. Junior goalkeeper Jamie Bisetti had an outstanding season, making 106 saves with a goals against average of 1.50. The season was also highlighted by some key victories. The Mountain Hawks defeated Temple, 2-1, and also beat Lafayette, 2-1. This marked their first victory over Lafayette in 4 years. Third year coach Julie Leonhardt remains extremely optimistic about the future of Lehigh Women's Soccer. "Although we didn't reach every goal we set at the beginning of the year, I think we did take some important steps forward and those should be recognized. We still have a ways to go and it's going to take the continued commitment of our players and our staff to accelerate our progress, but I believe we all have the courage to make it happen. I wouldn't be here if I didn't believe it was possible. That belief is the legacy that this senior class has left us. It is our job to make sure that legacy endures. To do great things, we need to continue to believe we will do great things." Lehigh loses just three seniors to graduation and has a strong nucleus returning next year. More records seem sure to fall.

Rising to the Top

SPOTLIGHT

Lehigh Women's soccer goalkeeper Jami Bisetti grew up with a special ability to "kick the rock." This junior from Littleton, CO grew up kicking rocks and has been for the past 16 years. She saw Lehigh as a great opportunity to receive an excellent education and a chance to play Division I soccer. She thrives on the competitiveness that Lehigh offers, both in the classroom and on the field. She continually demonstrates her leadership skills by being a member of the Student-Athlete Council, the C.O.A.C.H. program, and house manager of her sorority, Gamma Phi Beta. Bisetti's goal for next year is to help her team make it to the Patriot League Tournament.

Clockwise from immediate left: Wendi Croft (15) kicks the ball down field; Michelle Adams (9) works to keep the ball in-bounds; Michelle Kantor (20) attacks the loose ball; Michelle Adams (9) dribbles the ball up field past the defender; Michelle Kantor (20) uses her head to keep the ball away from the goal; teammates Stephanie Rogers (7) and Jessica Glomb (13) give a high-five after a goal; Jennifer Karpovich (3) gains possession of the ball; Natasha Taylor (18) awaits the oncoming play.

Men's CROSS COUNTRY 1999 Mountainhawks

Lehigh returned as a strong experienced team for the 1999 season as the Mountain Hawks looked to compete for the Patriot League title. Lehigh was picked to finish 4th in the preseason poll. The men's team ran strong this year under the leadership of Seniors Nate Hawkins and Steve Gourley. These two runners were not only the leaders of the squad, but the heart. Gourley made the All-Patriot League team for the second time in his career, finishing 6th at finals. He also won the IC4A University Championship. The team didn't revolve around just these two fine athletes though. Juniors Justin Taylor and Patrick Gurin and sophomores Robert Black and Martin Bure made large impact on the team as well. Even the freshmen were doing their part as Alex L'Heureax and Matt Mackay proved to be invaluable runners. The Mountain Hawks did immensely well this year and next year's prospects look even better.

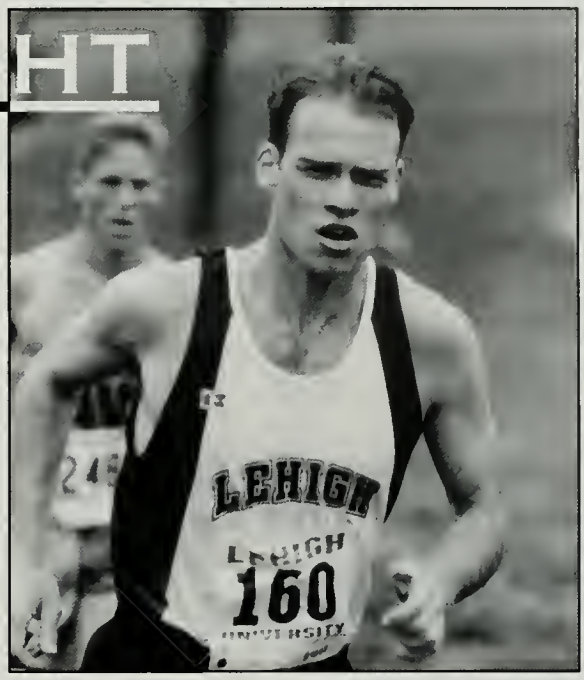
Going for the Finish

SPOTLIGHT



Steve Gourley has been on the Cross Country team since he has been at Lehigh. He is the captain of this year's men's team and one of the best on it. Steve was named to the All-Patriot Squad for a second year in a row and finished first for Lehigh in every single race. He captured the IC4A University Championship at Van Cortlandt, New York along his way to the end of a great collegiate career. Gourley placed sixth at the Patriot League championships at Lafayette, which clinched Lehigh's position at third overall. Steve's abilities and leadership will be missed in the coming year, but what he takes in talent he leaves in inspiration. "Steve is not only the best runner on the team, he is one of the best guys I know," said sophomore Kevin Topps.

Clockwise from immediate left: Sophomore Rob Black (151) is focused on his race as he gets ready to pass a leopard. Senior Nate Harkins (162) has more determination and drive than his competition. Seniors Nate Harkins and Steve Gourley were a great duo. They supplied the team with leadership and were great role models. Sophomore Dan Contreras (155) keeps in stride with the competition.

Women's CROSS COUNTRY 1999 Mountainhawks

Without an established front runner, the 1999 Lehigh Mountain Hawks used the true meaning of "TEAM" to complete its best season since 1993. The women finished first at the ECAC Championships, third at the Patriot League Championship, and eleventh at the NCAA Regionals, missing a top ten finish by only one point. Third year head coach, Debbie Utesch, was set to rely heavily on her sophomores as the season began, and that certainly proved to be the case, but she also got a strong freshmen effort. Sophomore Stacy Rallo finished first for Lehigh in three races and sophomore Megan Ackers finished in Lehigh's top four in six of seven meets. Freshman Lucinda Hull finished first for Lehigh in four meets and Edann Brady was consistently in the top four as well. Freshman Claudin Hull was also a strong contributor in the top four for Lehigh. Junior Co- Captain Colleen Glass added some strong running finishes to the group. This extraordinary young team ran more like a group of veterans, rather than underclassmen. All of the members of this team were able to pull out a win against the leopards in dual meet for the first time in four years. These younger athletes have already opened the door for themselves, and will be ready to run next year. There were no seniors on the team this year, so the same solid core will return again with another year of experience behind them. It should prove to be an even better season than this past year. The women are looking forward to the 2000 season with much more enthusiasm and confidence.

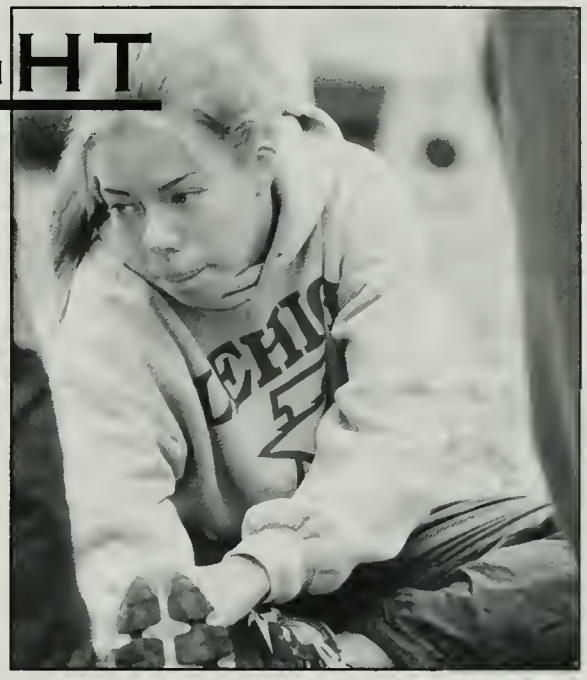
Young Hawks Shine

SPOTLIGHT

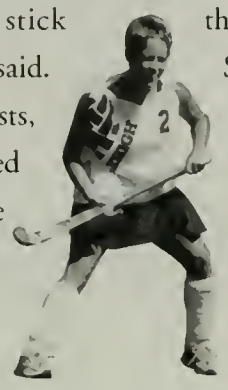


Freshwoman Lucinda Hull came to Lehigh just this year from Quince Orchard High School in Germantown, Maryland. Lucinda definitely made a space for herself on the trails this fall. She consistently had top finishes and began to seriously develop her skills. The coaches look forward to her continued growth and improvement in future seasons. With three more years to go things are looking very bright for her.

Clockwise from immediate left: Junior Co-Captain Colleen Glass (2154) tries to get out in front of the pack. Sophomore Megan Ackers (2150) ran well with a competitive spirit this past fall. Megan had strong consistent times throughout the season. Seeing double is normal for this years cross country team; freshwomen Claudin (2155) and Lucinda Hull (2156) both kicked the dirt up during their first season. Lehigh's competition will continue to experience double trouble next year. Sophomore Stacy Rallo (2161) had another strong season where she continued her success, and helped carry the team to a higher level.

Field Hockey 1999 Mountainhawks

The Lehigh University Field Hockey team may have finished with a record of 4-14 this year, but this says nothing about the team that they truly were. The Mountain Hawks were led by seniors Stephanie Henry (Captain), Jodi Renner, Lesley Havens (Captain), Megan Calhoun, Kim Walker, Tory Griffing, and Katie Hopping, who all brought out the Lehigh spirit. "One of the strongest assets the team had this year was our unique bond to stick through everything together, even at our lowest points," Henry said.



Scoring was led by seniors Hopping, with three goals and four assists, and Henry, who had five goals. Sophomore Cindy Tindall led the team with forty shots on goal and she was selected to the All- Patriot League Second Team along with Hopping. Awards were given to seniors, such as Athlete of the Year to Hopping, Scholar Athlete of the Year to Jodi Renner, and the Coaches Award (given by the Athletic Department) to Lesley Havens. This year's team also gained a lot of experience through playing standout teams, such as the University of Delaware, Dartmouth, and Lafayette, who are three of the top twenty field hockey teams. Henry says, "The team will definitely succeed next year and the years after, especially with the coaching we have." This is true, because with the Mountain Hawks' continuous hard work and dedication, they will begin to take the walk down the road to success.

Striding Ahead

Spotlight

Katie Hopping, a senior on the team this year, was the center midfielder for the Mountain Hawks. She played on both the offensive corner team, where she was a trailer, and defensive corner team, where she did a great job of pushing the ball out. Katie helped to lead the team in scoring with three goals, and she also tallied four assists. She was selected to the All-Patriot League Second Team and was also chosen as Lehigh's Athlete of the Year this year. Katie was a great passer and leader, and she seized the field every game and practice. "Katie was instrumental in helping the team to understand the turf game better, and she had a great game sense," — Coach Finegan.

Clockwise from immediate left: The forwards are set for a free shot. Junior Kristy McHale (4) picks the pocket of this Colgate Player. Senior Co-captain Stephanie Henry (6) makes her way past a defender and moves toward the goal. Sophomore forward Michelle Wildgen (15) has her chance to play some defense. Megan Calhoun (8), a senior back, is set for her shot on goal. Jenny Lehman (3), a sophomore middie, stops the ball and is ready to slam it into the net.

Lehigh's volleyball team started the season with a loss against top ranked contender Rice University but it did not foreshadow the rest of the season. The team was picked to finish fifth in the Patriot League, but placed fourth and had the chance to compete for the Patriot League Title. This is the tenth consecutive year they have made the tournament. This season was tough for the hawks because they are a very young team and suffered a major loss when sophomore outside hitter Lisa Cuny was injured in September. Freshman Meghan Punshke stepped in and made her presence felt. Punshke ended the season leading the team in hitting percentage (.288), a mark that placed her second in the league. Freshman Rochelle Helea was another key standout for Lehigh. She led the team in kills/game (3.89) and was also second in the league. She was named the Patriot League Rookie of the Year and was also honored as a member of the All-Patriot League Second Team. Seniors Marta Mielcarz, Veronica Ret, and Danielle Puceta continued to carry the team throughout the season. Marta returned from injury, and all three continued to move up in Lehigh's all-time rankings. This is the Mountain Hawks' third consecutive winning season under head coach Patrick Nicholas.

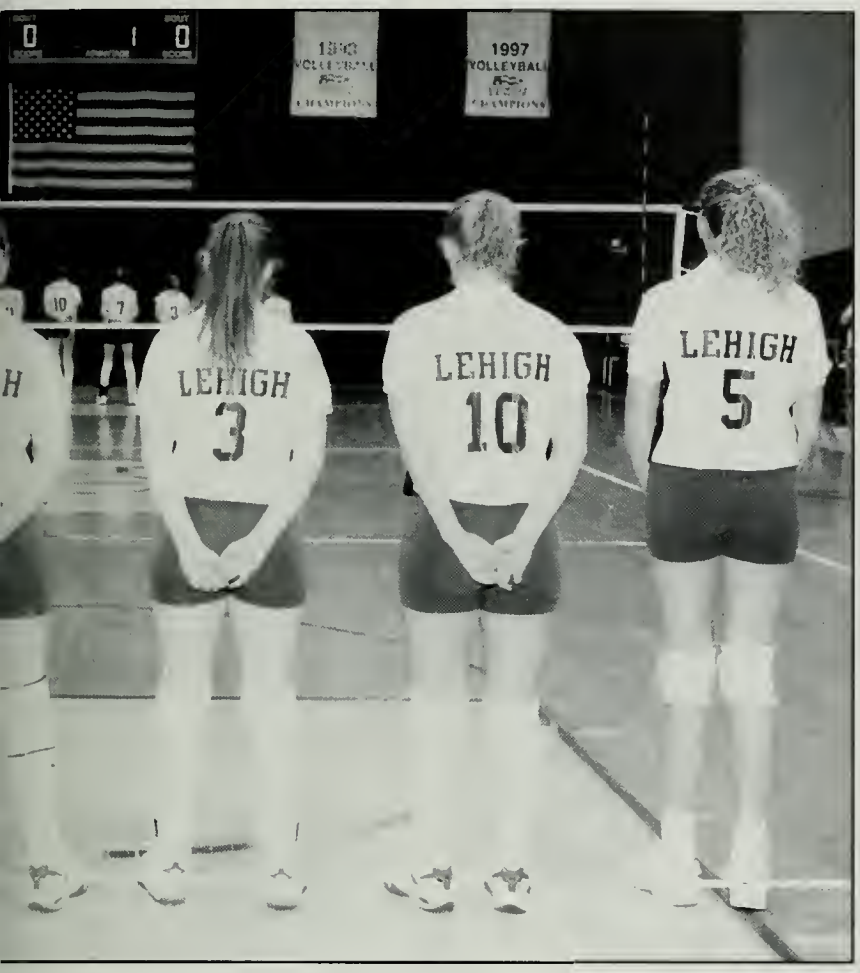
Building on Success

SPOTLIGHT



Freshwoman Rochelle Helea was a major standout on this year's volleyball squad. She led the team in kills with 323, was selected to three of four all-tournament teams, was inducted into the AVCA 30 kill club for having 32 kills against the U.S. Military Academy and is ranked 16th in Lehigh's kills/season record in just one year. She was selected as offensive player of the week three times. She also led the team in kills/game and was second in the league. Helea was named to the All-Patriot League Second Team and was voted Patriot League Rookie of the Year. Rochelle comes to Lehigh from Vancouver, Washington. She made quite a trek to get here, but has definitely found her niche.

Mountainhawks

The 1999 football season was full of emotion. Excitement and anticipation were encountered not only by the Lehigh football players, but by their fans as well. Lehigh was in charge of defending their previous Patriot League Title. They continued their winning streak by obtaining a 10-1 record in the regular season and receiving an at large bid to the Division IAA National Playoffs. Lehigh has a record of 21-1 over the past two years, and many of this years seniors now hold both Lehigh and Patriot League Records. The mountain hawks had a great start this year. Fordham and Monmouth were easy wins. The Mountainhawks were creating large leads early on in the game never allowing their opponents the opportunity to catch up. Lehigh's first string started getting lots of rest in the fourth quarter, while the underclassmen were able to obtain valuable playing time. Many of the younger players were able to develop their skills and adjust to collegiate ball given this opportunity to play. One of upsets of this season was the 24-28 loss to Colgate University. This loss almost jeopardized the Hawks chances of making playoffs. At the end of the season Lehigh and Colgate were tied for first place in the Patriot League. Colgate received the automatic playoff bid since they beat Lehigh during the regular season, although the talent of the 1999 football team did not go unnoticied. Lehigh received an at large bid to playoffs due to their outstanding season of play, although they were not able to come up with a win. Lehigh lost to Hofstra on November 27, 15-27 at Hofstra Stadium.

Defending a Title

SPOTLIGHT

Senior Quad Captain, Phil Stambaugh, has had an amazing football career at Lehigh University. Many feel that he is the most prolific passer Lehigh has ever seen. He holds three Lehigh career records: for Passing Yards with 9,669, Touchdown Passes with 79, and Pass Completions with 818. He holds a 64% completion percentage and was a Walter Payton Award Finalist. Stambaugh is currently ranked third in the nation in pass efficiency, total offense, and scoring offense. He was honored in the Blue and Gray game in Mobile, Alabama where the best Division IA and IAA players compete. Stambaugh has also signed a free agent contract to play with the Buffalo Bills.

The Lehigh Football program has grown tremendously. Over the course of the past three years graduating players have gone on to higher levels of play. Rabih Abdullah '97 is playing with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, Nick Martucci '99 went on to play with the L.A. Raiders just last year, and Phil Stambaugh will continue this tradition; he has signed a free agent contract with the Buffalo Bills. Stambaugh is not the only player to have been recognized on the national level. Ron Jean has been interviewed by Sports Illustrated magazine, Good Morning America, HBO Real Sports, ESPN, Philadelphia Inquirer and the NY Times. Ron Jean set four new seasonal records for rushing touchdowns (23), total points (156), total touchdowns (26), and points per game (15.6). 2000 Mountainhawks

The Lady Mountain Hawk's Basketball Team had a very successful season this year, with its overall record of (13-16) and its Patriot League record of (6-6). With seniors Danielle Baldwin, Alexis Bevington, Kelly Collins, Kate Donohue, Christina Henry, Amy Thomson, and Maureen Trigo leading the way, the team and its play has been brought to a new level: a respectable one. Many of the players on the team received well-deserved awards. Danielle Baldwin received the Player of the Year Award, Kelly Collins received the Scholar Athlete of the Year Award, and Marsha Bawersox received the Coaches Award, for all of their hard work. Anne Tierney was voted as the Rookie of the Year this year, as well as being voted to the All Patriot League First Team. Danielle Baldwin was also voted to the Second Team All-League Team. One great accomplishment the entire team took part in was being ranked fifth among all Division I schools for their outstanding combined cummulative GPA, this being about a 3.29. Coach Sue Troyan said this about the season, "A special thank-you goes out to the seniors leaving who elevated the program to where it is now. With that, we are going to take this and go a step further." That step being an even more successful one.

Danielle Baldwin, a senior on the team, has had a great career here at Lehigh. She has started every game since she came to this campus, and she is the first woman in Lehigh's history to gain that honor. Danielle is a great athlete who has an outstanding work ethic and is a very strong floor leader for the team. She played a big role in winning the Patriot League Championship, as well as taking the team to the NCAA Tournament. Her dedication and hard work paid off in receiving the Player of the Year Award. "She set an example every day she stepped on the basketball court in terms of how hard she worked," says coach Sue Troyan about Danielle.

Men's SWIMMING & DIVING 2000 Mountainhawks

A year ago Lehigh's Men's Swimming and Diving Team broke the Army's seven year winning streak in the 1999 Patriot League Championships. However, this year they fell a bit short earning themselves a strong second place finish by only 29 points to the Army's team for the 2000 Patriot League Championships after an exciting back and forth battle. There were many individual and team accomplishments amid the enthralling weekend. Among the Lehigh Mountain Hawks there were seven first place finishes, four of which were won by freshmen swimmers. In four events, Lehigh had four of the eight swimmers in the final heat. Eight Lehigh swimmers were named to the 2000 All- Patriot League team based on their performance at championships. They are Junior Matt Barausky, Sophomore Jason Boire, Freshman Lou Bosurgi, Freshman Ian Gillen, Sophomore Rick Golebiewski, Freshman Bing Padmasankha, Junior Mike Pealer, and Freshman Brian Quigley. The Lehigh team also set five new University records: 200 Free Relay with a new record of 1:23.15, 400 Free Relay with a new record of 3:04.87, 200 Medley relay with a new record of 1:32.84, 400 medley relay with a new record of 3:25.22 and finally the 200 backstroke with a new record of 1:51.40. Lehigh has great hopes for the Patriot League Championships next year, because only one senior is being lost to graduation. The team will be as strong, if not stronger in the year 2001. This year-end championship weekend was an exciting climax to a great regular season. The Lehigh University Men's Swimming and Diving team posted a 9-2 record this season.

Traci Rickert had an amazing season on the Women's Swimming Team. Unfortunately the team is losing one of their stars on account of her graduation from Lehigh this spring. She has held both individual and team records, and was a member of several record holding relay teams, including the 200 yard free relay which shattered the previous record in the Patriot League Championships. Traci was one of the swimmers named to the All Patriot League Team. "My teammates rely on me not only for swimming , but they also find me very approachable when they need to talk to someone. I try my best to make the best of any situation whether a practice or a meet," says Traci. Coach Marshall feels that Traci is one of the best swimmers to have passed though Lehigh.

Clockwise from immediate left: Senior Traci Rickert had a third place finish in the 50 yard freestyle at the Patriot League Meet. Seniors Meredith Hughes and Jess Weathers take a trip down to the pool. Freshman Laura Gabrynowicz competes in the 400 yard medley relay, the brest stroke leg.

WRESTLING

The Lehigh Wrestling program is on its way back to the top. In a year in which The Morning Call dubbed the University as the "cradle of wrestling", the Brown and White completed their best regular season ever with a 19-2 duals record. The season started off on the right foot when former Lehigh wrestler Larry White '65 endowed a total of 1.5 million dollars to the head wrestling coach position. Lehigh opened its dual season at home against Penn State with a 19-16 win over the Nittany Lions at Stabler Arena. The team went 8-0 before suffering its first loss to the University of Edinboro 10-22 at the Virginia Duals in the beginning of January. The second loss came just two matches later at the VA Duals against the University of Michigan 15-19. The grapplers did not drop another dual after leaving Virginia, finishing the season on a 10-0 run. At the ensuing EIWA Championships, Lehigh captured the team title with nine placewinners. Head Coach Greg Strobel was also named EIWA Coach of the Year. Seven grapplers earned a trip to the NCAA National Championships where four garnered All-American honors as Lehigh finished 7th, its best since 1983. With three returning All-Americans (Ryan Bernholz, Dave Esposito, Rob Rohn) and four EIWA champs (Esposito, Rohn, Bruce Kelly, and Matt Goldstein) Lehigh looks to improve this year's success with a Top 5 finish at the National Championships.

The senior Electrical Engineering major was ranked #16 entering the Nationals but was unseeded for the championships. The Brown and White benefited from Dufresne's upsets all season and he is a big reason why Lehigh finished the season with a best ever 19-2 duals record. At the 77th annual Lewis Wrestling Dinner, Dufresne was the recipient of the Scholar-Athlete award given to the athlete who, in the eyes of his classmates, best exemplifies the ideals of the scholar-athlete.

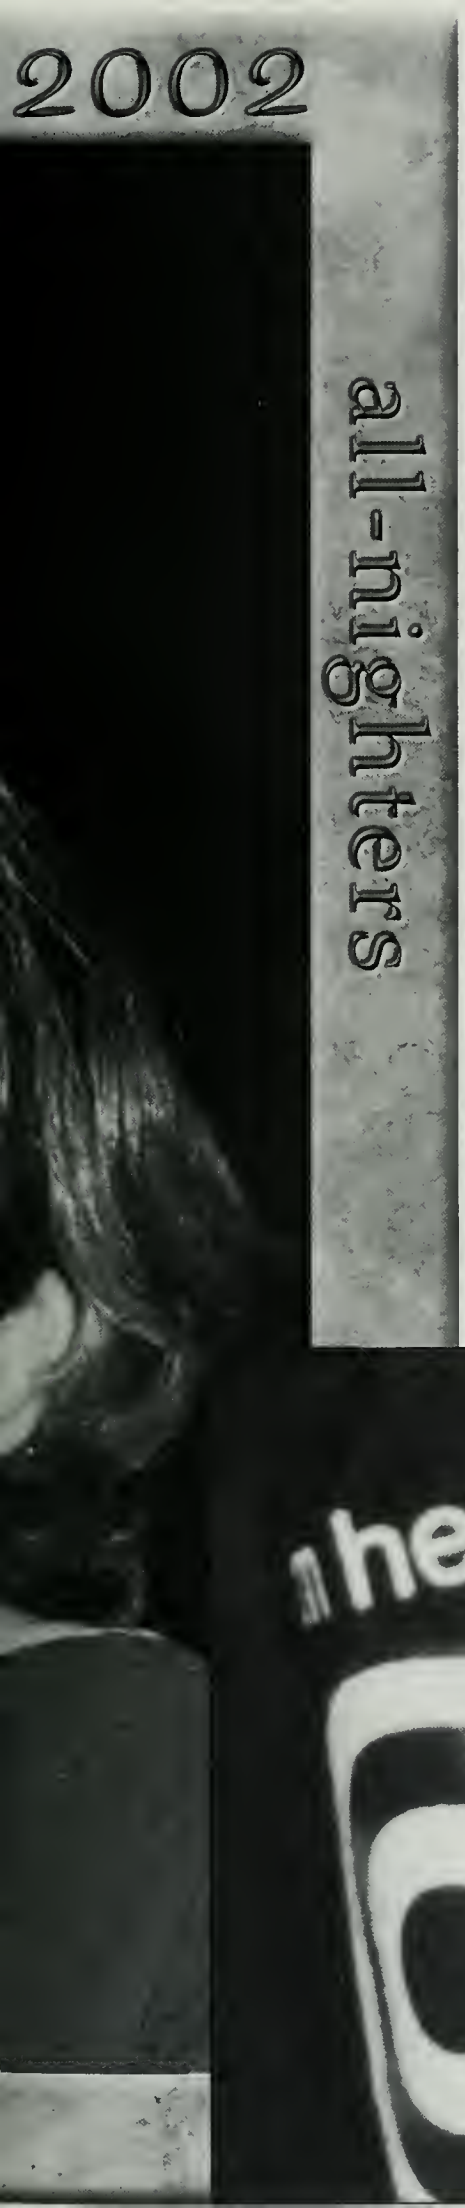
choosing a major



As freshman, we came here scared, confused, away from home, not knowing a thing. Who did we turn to? The people we first met became our friends, the ones we turned to for advice, the ones we went out with on weekends. Soon these were the people we trusted, people we considered true friends.

Returning as sophomores, there was less uncertainty about what lay ahead. Our friends weren't necessarily the people next door anymore, but they were the ones with whom we already shared intimate bonds. Sophomore year our friendships were put to the test because all of our best friends no longer lived down the hall. The people who continue to be our friends do so because they know us better than anyone else, they can sense how we feel just by the sound of our voice, and understand what we are saying even without words. They are the people who take our deepest secrets and tuck them away, believe in our dreams, and support us as life at Lehigh gets more complex. These are the friends that we will keep closest to our hearts.

- Laura Tursick, '02

Sophomore year can be a trying year in one's life. The stresses of choosing a major, which can determine what path you take in life, is often overwhelming! Classes get harder and the work load increases. In spite of all that, sophomores manage to remember that having fun is an important detail in life. In fact, half the fun is learning how to balance the everyday demands with a little relaxation. Being a sophomore brings new experiences at Lehigh and a new view of the world.

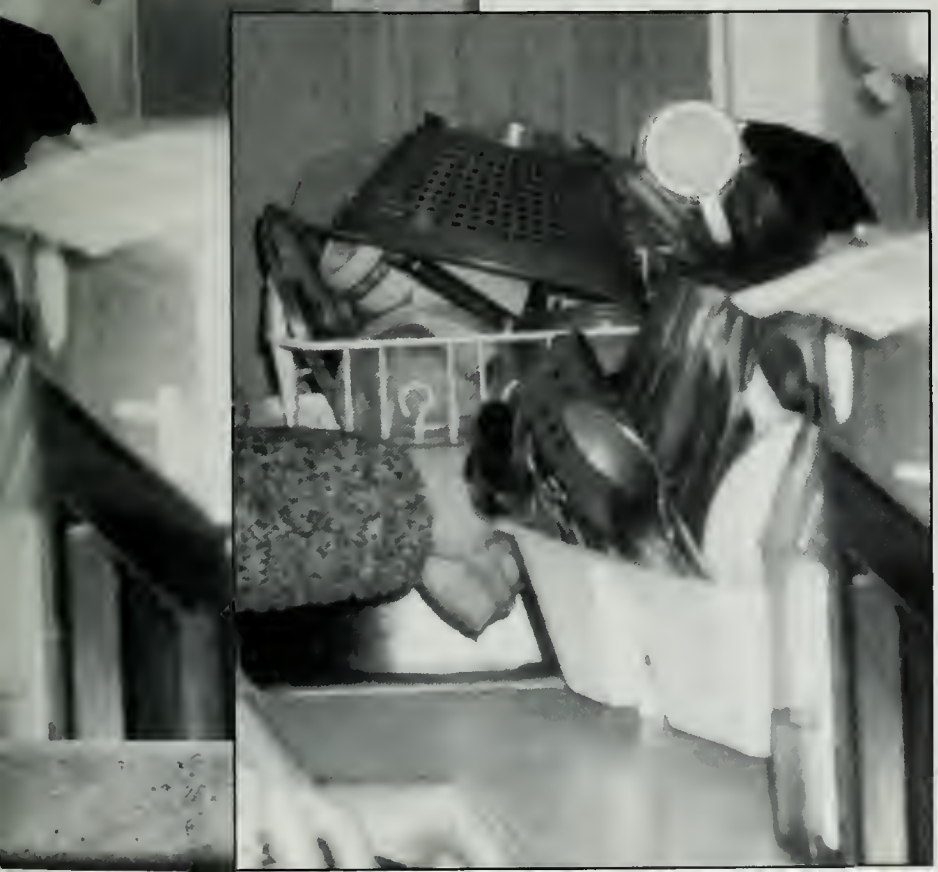
old friends

off-campus

I moved into my first off-campus apartment this year at the same time as everyone else on my block. I was so excited to get back to Lehigh that I left the password to the security system at home on my desk. None of my roommates were home at the time, but I was confident I would remember the code when I saw the keypad. I opened the door to find the alarm set. I stared at the keypad waiting for the correct code to enter my brain, but I went blank. Suddenly the blaring sound of the alarm startled my consciousness. I tried everything I could think of to stop it because I was being deafened by the shrieking alarm, plus I was attracting attention from the neighbors! Then the Bethlehem police came and saved the day.

Later that night, I realized I still didn't know the code! So I called my landlord and asked him if he could "remind" me of my password. He laughed because he thought I had the easiest code to remember. After that incident, I never forgot my code again. That was the start of an unforgettable junior year!

- Katrina Morales, '01



Junior year is a time to reunite with old friends, move off-campus and declare independence. It marks the importance of being halfway through a college career. Many classmates are busy interviewing for resume-building internships for their last summer before graduation. Meanwhile, others are coping with the knowledge that those "oh so carefree" college days will soon be over!

ORGANIZATIONS

The countless friendships created set the college experience apart from any before it. Yes, it is true we all have our friends from high school and home, but there is something special about college friends. These friends have seen you at your best and certainly at your worst. They have been there when you received your first bad grade or for that difficult breakup.

Perhaps one of the best ways we, at Lehigh, make our friends is through the participation in an organization. It is here where we can find others with whom we share common interests. That someone that otherwise would have been just another face in the crowd milling around campus, had we not taken the opportunity to get involved.

SENIOR class

The Senior Class officers have been hard at work making the first graduating class of the new millennium the standard, in both pride and unity, by which all future classes will be judged. We are confident that many meaningful memories, while some may be fuzzy, have been forged at our various senior night events. Thanks to your support, Senior Week, held at Dewey Beach and the Senior Class Auction were overwhelming successes. We feel that the class of 2000 is a very special one and we, the senior class officers, would like to thank everyone who was involved in making this academic year unforgettable. We wish you all the best in your future endeavors and may your memories of Lehigh grow fonder with each passing day.

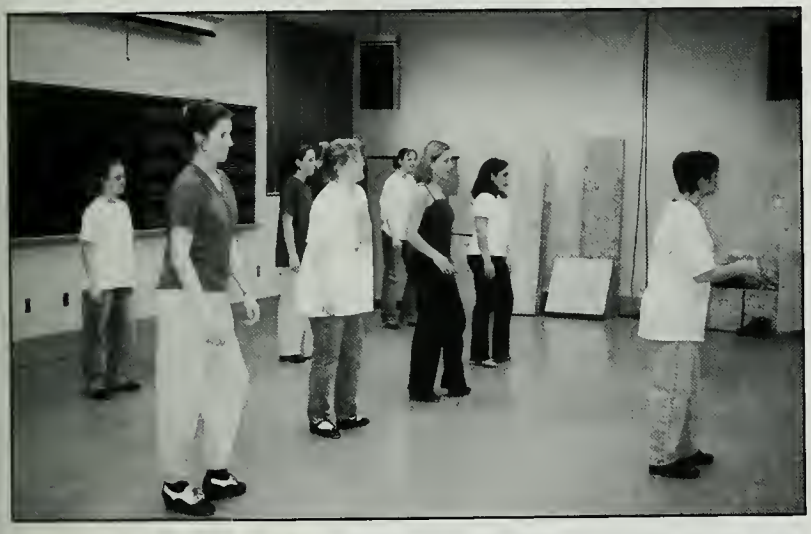
DANCIN'



The Dancin' organization provides a place for students to broaden their extracurricular activities. We provide dance classes that involve technique and combinations, with an ever-present goal of our annual spring concert. These classes are for our members to learn specific techniques to improve their performance skills and to expand their current dance knowledge and abilities. Our annual performance is held in Baker Hall in Zoellner Arts Center. Club members also take advantage of the master classes held at Zoellner by the various visiting artists who come to campus.

RUGBY women's

Lehigh University Women's Rugby had a great season, finishing with a 9-2 record and came in second overall at the Eastern Pennsylvania Rugby Union Championships. Because of their success, the team qualified for the Mid-Atlantic Championships in the spring of 2000, where they also played very well.

The Association for Computing Machinery, ACM, was founded in 1947 as the society for computing and information processing. It's purpose is to promote and advance the free interchange of information about the sciences and arts of information processing while maintaining the integrity and competence of all individuals in the field.

INTERFRATERNITY council

The Lehigh University Interfraternity Council is comprised of 26 fraternity presidents, 7 committee heads, and 6 executive board members. The members of the IFC, as leaders on campus, hold the responsibility of representing the fraternities here at Lehigh to the best of their ability. Since the colonization of the first fraternity at Lehigh in 1872, the Greek system has made an extraordinary amount of positive contributions to the welfare of the Lehigh community. Through fund-raisers and various other community service projects and events, the fraternities and Interfraternity Council at Lehigh have worked hard to create and maintain positive relationships with both the Lehigh and Bethlehem communities. The IFC has contributed to many different charities and causes in the past year. The Greek system is a major part of Lehigh University in the year 2000 and will be for the next 128 years.

student SENATE

We, the Lehigh University Student Senate, dedicate our actions towards improving the quality of life for present and future students through unified representation. The purpose of the Student Senate is to protect student rights and promote positive change. We sincerely hope that our contributions have helped to make your days here a little more memorable.

LEHIGH UNIVERSITY choir

The choral traditions of Lehigh University date back to the 1880's, when a Mandolin and Singing club was formed by the undergraduates. Since that time, there has been unbroken growth of singing at Lehigh. Today's Lehigh Choir is an active force in campus life and around the world. The 50 mixed voices of the Choir are auditioned at the beginning of the academic year and are drawn from all majors of the university. They perform major works from the choral-orchestral repertoire on campus and serve as cultural ambassadors, bringing music from Lehigh around the globe. The Choir performs new music regularly, including many works written especially for them. They premiered a new work by director Steven Sametz and Christopher Delp '02, during their five city tour of California, May 19-June 1, 2000. This year sees the release of the Choir's first major CD, "Live from Taipei," recorded during their tour of four countries in Asia last year.

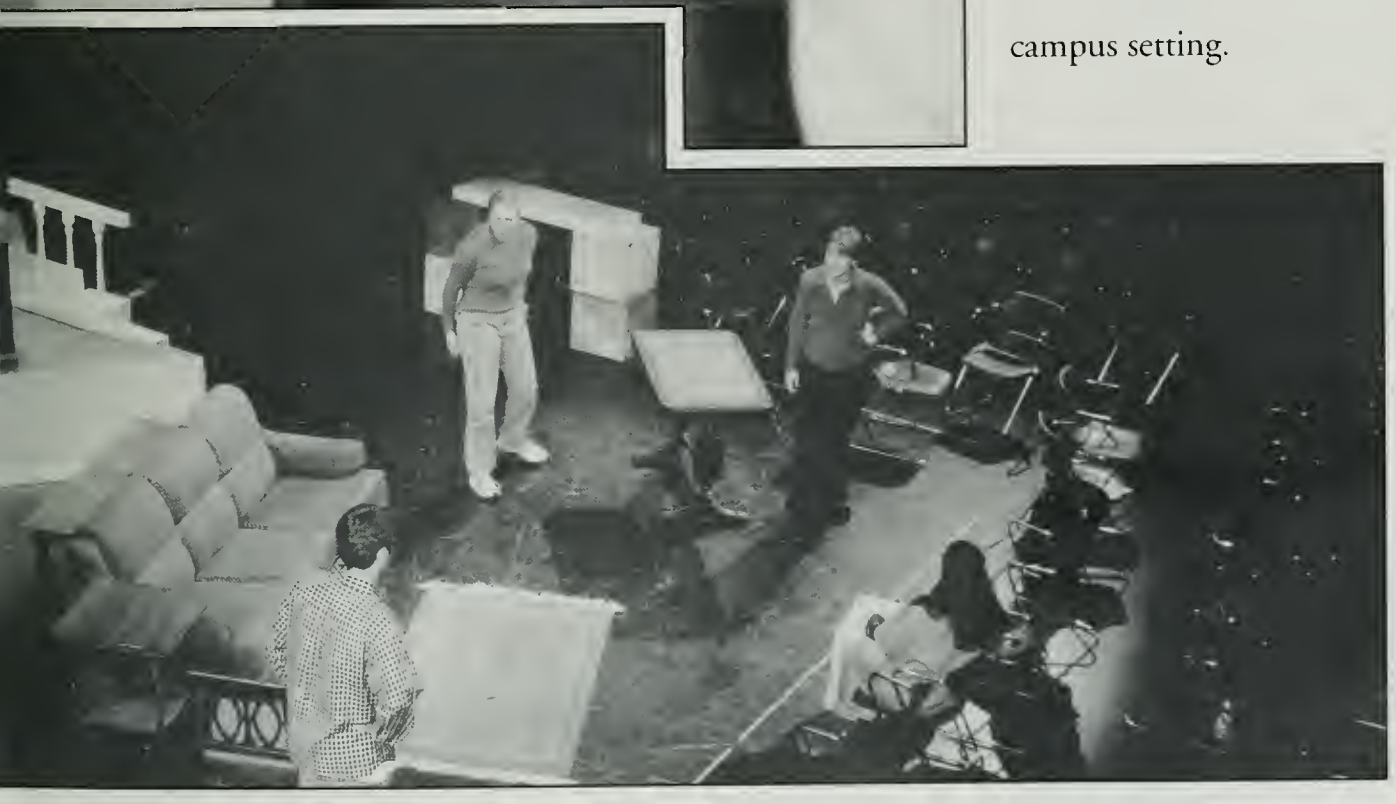
KAPPA KAPPA psi

This year marks the 5th anniversary of the Kappa Gamma Chapter of Kappa Kappa Psi at Lehigh University. The brothers of this Co-ed, National Honorary Band Fraternity were very excited to celebrate such a momentous date. Within the past five years, the brotherhood has grown to 29 active members and 33 alumni. Kappa Kappa Psi has branched out into the community. This year, the brothers tutored at Donnegan Elementary School, caroled at Holy Family Manor, and volunteered at the Drum Corps. Association Championships held during September of 1999 in Allentown. Kappa Kappa Psi also ushered for concerts held at the Zoellner Arts Center, had their annual Service Auction, and held various other fundraising events. These fundraisers were used to raise money for our Central Precinct Convention, in which Kappa Gamma was this year's host. One hundred twenty five brothers and sisters came from other schools to attend this event. Precincts was a lot of hard work, but also a lot of fun for Kappa Gamma. During the first night of Precincts, the brotherhood also initiated nine new membership candidates and one honorary member, Professor David Diggs. The chapter is looking forward to inducting them as the Zeta class in April. Some of the social projects for this year were brotherhood dinners, game night, ultimate frisbee, ice skating, and a winter formal.

mustard and CHEESE SOCIETY

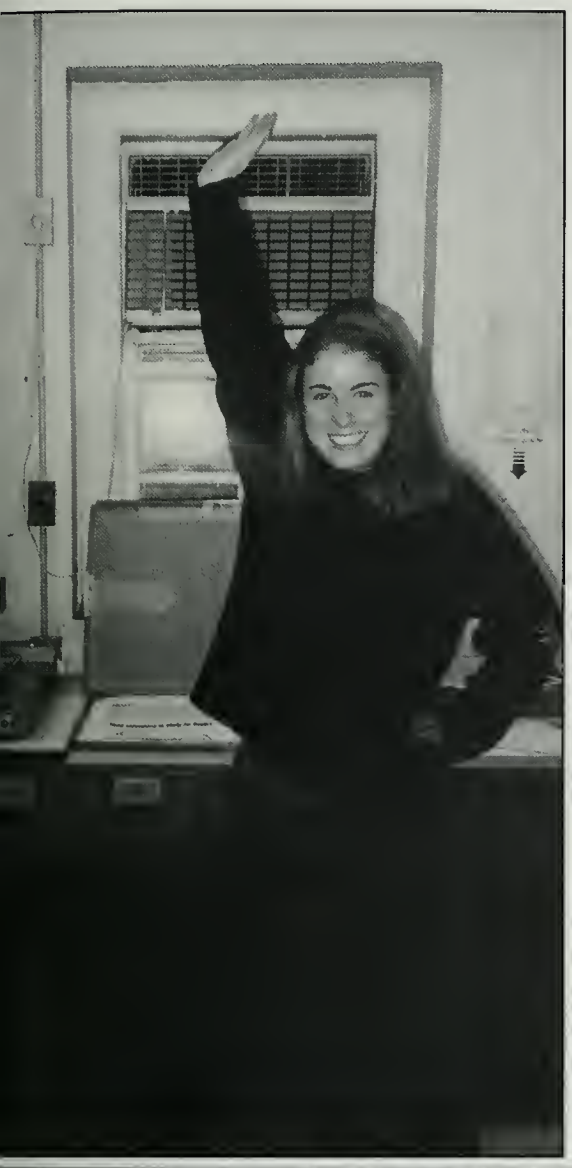
In cooperation with the theatre department of Lehigh University, the Drama Society is dedicated to providing theatre education and opportunities in performance and design to Lehigh University students.

The Mustard and Cheese Drama Society, founded in 1884 by Richard Harding Davis, is the second oldest collegiate drama society in the country. The club has a number of ongoing responsibilities that support and complement the theatre department's activities. Mustard and Cheese also encourages its members to support and participate in theatrical endeavors outside of the campus setting.



BROWN and white

Lehigh University's Student Newspaper Founded in 1894



The Brown and White has become more than a student newspaper on Lehigh's campus. Instead, the bi-weekly publication serves as a tradition. The tradition launches itself each August when the first 28 page paper is published and a freshman student picks up a copy for the first time. When the first Quick Fact is told to somebody else, when the first comic is made fun of, and when people decide to be a Face in the Crowd by their senior year, the tradition is energized. Each Tuesday and Friday, students rush to the pile, hoping to grab some newsprint before it empties out, and professors compete for attention over open 11 x 17 pieces of paper.

That energy, however, is only half of the success. The other 50% comes from Sunday, Monday, and Wednesday nights when the editorial staff made up of approximately thirty undergraduates takes up residence in the dark dungeon of the U.C.. These people make their commitment to serve the University important news, winning scores and sometimes even gossip. Each editor goes through a vigorous process to actually complete the night and look on with pride when their story comes out picture perfect two days later. Of course though, with the seriousness has to come some fun...

Girl power still rules, only bisons are fools, repeating stories, increasing our worries, mass times a must, oh there's always some lust, knowing everyone's habits, being called babbits, Jean-Bieve and Quinn, and naming our next of kin, sport's staff missing, everybody's twitching, Keith on his cell phone, trying to sneak home, designing late-night graphics, random people caught in traffic, resigning and denying, Jill getting out, always reasonable doubt, pulling all-nighters, becoming great fighters, Larry in the dirt, words no longer hurt, question marks and foreboding quotes, writers forgetting to take notes, Christine running like she's never run before, vending machine stocking more and more, Republicans and Alex mad, a weird time was what we had, contributing, associate, managing, chief, but we still wonder who was the thief, and then it was the end of fun, so much for a story of tweedledee and tweedledum.

best BUDDIES

The goal of Best Buddies is to provide an opportunity for college students and individuals with mental retardation to become friends. Students and persons with mental retardation are given a chance to develop leadership potential, improve social skills, boost self-confidence, learn how to live in a diverse community, and expand their network of friends through a one-to-one friendship.

gryphon SOCIETY

The Gryphon Society was formed here at Lehigh University in 1957. For the past 42 years, members have counselled, guided, and extended their influence into the lives of countless residents, and have had their lives enriched in return. Gryphons plan and coordinate social and educational programs for their residents and work as a collective unit to enhance the quality of life within the residence halls. The society is made up of diverse members of the Lehigh community who come together not only as teammates, but as friends. As we work to achieve common goals, we develop ourselves and our bonds with each other.

MARCHING 97

Four tweets, four booms, and off they once as a group of students now as a unit moving with the percussion's rap, tap, tap...it's the Lehigh University Marching 97 in blaring force, noted everywhere as "the finest band East of all points West." Led by their fearless leader, this group of multi-talented students lift their legs in unison, playing their hearts out for a school they hold with much pride in their hearts. Neither pounding rain, bone-chilling snow, nor torturous distance will keep these musical troopers away. Things branded forever in our memories: the Moped, citrus frosh, "don't forget to feed the llamas," 7 ft. smoking Q-tip, P & S, sophomore skins...my oh my, pie in Mike's face (a little bit of blueberry in your eye...), "he fits in a 5/6?!" showing up the high schoolers, Alumni Day BBQ, tea bags, "So, that's what CHOAM means?!" Hi Guido!, Putang, poor Ted, wingers are bad, steal the frosh's dinks, the return of the Quest, bondage, 'tie me up' Gryn, 308 Summit, 470 Birkel, 421 Montclair, TP 47, TP 56, D.A.G.

The Outing Club runs trips to both local and remote destinations. We climb, hike, canoe/kayak, backpack, camp, road trip, and more. New members are always welcome. Activities range in difficulty from novice to advanced. Highlights of 1999-2000 include a camping/canoeing/climbing trip to Lake George, backpacking the AT in Georgia, and several day hiking and climbing trips to local areas.

ALPHA PHI omega

Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, is founded on three cardinal principles: leadership, friendship, and service. The Alpha Psi chapter at Lehigh University has served the area for over 60 years. Our members volunteer their time and energy to local charitable organizations including Habitat for Humanity, Easton, ASPCA, and the Miller Blood Center. This fall, APO hosted school students from the community at a performance of "Fables & Folklore" at Zoellner Arts Center. Every year in the spring, APO sponsors CID, Community Interaction Day, when students help clean up Bethlehem's Southside. Brothers also volunteer on campus by ushering at Zoellner events and participating in Kidsfest. In recent years, APO's size has been increasing, which will allow them to take part in more projects during the upcoming years.

CHARLES RUSS RICHARDS HOUSE

LIVING

The first time you walked into your freshman dorm. The first time you met your roommate. The first time you saw a blinking red light on your phone. The first time you walked up the infamous "hill". The first time you tried "Beast". The first letter you received in your mailbox. The first time you pulled an all nighter. The first time you heard the words "The Ho" and wondered what they meant. The first formal you attended. The first time you realized your roommate was your best friend – or your worst enemy. The first bill you paid. The first parking ticket you received. The first time you ate at "The Bone". The first time you wore your Greek letters not realizing how much they would actually mean to you. The first sisterhood/brotherhood activity you attended. The first time you shoveled your car out of the snow. The first time you walked up the 101 Zoellner stairs. The first time you realized you were surviving on your own. . .

Just a few of the many details that make living at Lehigh a memorable and unforgettable experience.

Night and Dawn

Some nights seem to be cold and cruel.

Mist in the dark like a fierce tiger swallowing a person's consciousness.

Lost in the middle of nowhere, fear and anger fill the air.

Hoping to be found, striving to find a way.

Night will be gone and dawn will come.

By that time you know you are the one.

The hero who has survived in the cold night and the one who has found the way.

Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;

Then took the other, as just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
Though as for that the passing there
Had worn them really about the same,

And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.

I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood and I—
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.

As time has changed and seasons have past
We've developed a bond that will forever last.

As we say goodbye in this our final year
We try to hold back those overpowering fears.

We remember those times that seem so long ago
As we grew up together through highs and lows.

We knew this day would eventually be here
But had no idea of its overwhelming fear.

The years have flown by but the memories remain
These faces and names will always stay the same.

So as you go out into this world unknown
Always remember there's no place like home.

Delta Gamma has had a very productive year, not only in terms of reaching our quota during rush but also in terms of scholastic standing and extracurricular activities. We got 27 new members who will hopefully help us maintain our scholastic rank among the sororities. Our annual event, Anchor Dash, was a success, bringing together many sororities and fraternities for some friendly competition. We also hosted a non-alcoholic luau where the main attraction was a man eating fire on stilts. An alcohol awareness event attracted the chief of police and his colleagues at which they spoke about the effects of alcohol on our lives and the lives of those around us. This year's activities have shown Delta Gamma's excellence and we will continue to grow!

Where will the Gamma Phi Beta seniors be in ten years?

Natalie Ciampa: gets arrested for stealing a gorilla suit from Scaramouche on 3rd Street in Bethlehem.

Stephanie Cesario: coins the term madtamootz, How's ya fatha' Who's ya daddy, How ya doin', and let me see that thong.

Jessica Glomb: is found actually in bed with David Letterman, not just acting it out on t.v.

Caitlin Gibbons: is found with her foot permanently in her mouth.

Sarah Blades: while decorating her island in Maine with pastel plaids she stumbles upon a cure for narcolepsy.

Courtney Marshall: becomes an actress for Tampax commercials.

Chrissy Tobin: is found barefoot and pregnant driving a minivan.

Janine Chiagouris: becomes a professional wedding singer.

Jill Falcinelli: becomes a toll collector on I-95.

Jen Sinelikov: makes her first million after the mysterious death of her boss and current lover, Morgan Stanley.

Kelly Chanley: is found traveling with the world's strongest man competition as the muscle greaser.

Colleen Mack: forms a monopoly on the stripping industry due to the fact that Jimmy Rose told everybody to get out while they can.

Joy Hohenstein: after her first trip to the moon she wins the first ever intergalatic beirut tournament.

Amy Fechter: will still be waiting to hear from the companies she sent her resume to. In the meantime she will be writing a poetic cookbook, "Verses of Pizza and Burgers".

Courtney Vail: will make her fortune by inventing The Miracle Bra II-The future of boobs.

Shiloh Stivers: will start a covert ninja organization based on "smokey" fundamentals.

Shari Hoffman: will find a ponytail in Trumball, where she'll start a family clothed in flashy tie-dyes who dance to the Grateful Dead.

Rebecca "The Rock" Nemiroff: will be found at local nightclubs demonstrating her unique techno styled hip-to-the-max dance moves, continually aspiring to surpass the likes of Nikita.

Alexis Green: after ten years of hard work to perfect the Gap television campaign, she retires to Spain to promote her latest workout video, 'Sweatin' to Salsa, Volume II.

Kandice Popkin: Exiles herself from her true heartland Wayne, NJ, with her children Lenny and Otis, where she can successfully pursue her caree as an Aretha Franklin impersonator.

Julie Kracower: was last seen wearing a pink wig and straight jacket fleeing from a pet store screaming "long live the cats!"

Meredith Hughes: After completing her third Trans-Atlantic swim, she decides to open the first floating dance club, "Tramps on the Tramp".

Jaimie Meglaughlin: marries Dennis from Diane's to ensure that she has a lifetime supply of free tanning.

Brianne Vincent: becomes a missionary and travels the globe in hopes that someday she and Gamma Phi Beta will rule the world.

Sacha Dumont: by day, she cares for her three children, one of which is her husband. By night, she does lap dances at the local peep show.

Chi Psi is one of the oldest fraternities on the Lehigh University Campus. Their chapter house is nicknamed the "Lodge" following a tradition established in 1846 at the University of Michigan. The U of M undergraduates constructed a log cabin in the woods of Ann Arbor as a meeting place for the fraternity to escape from the hostile faculty who were against secret societies at the time.

Today, the Lodge at Lehigh is one of 30 which presently exist on campuses across the United States. The Beta Delta chapter was established at Lehigh in 1894. Brothers participate in many intramurals, student government and athletic activities.

Well, the year 2000 has come upon us and another year is in the books. There has been no shortage of shady antics and sketchiness at the good old Sig house. This installment of the detour into insanity has been scary and dirty at the some times, but for the most part we've all escaped generally unscathed. Under the wisdom and leadership of Dr. Gyno, the evil mad consul, the Alpha Rho chapter has both survived and thrived. This year has seen the further mental degradation of CPJ2, the return of Jaycee, the isolation and clear cutting of the black forest, bbolf, reunification of the sketchies, rippers in the party room, a nice and shady pledge class of 18, 17 uh 16 fellas, the glue holding everything together by the skin of his pants, the quest for furniture, Spliffy's graduation, Shamus appearing almost every weekend, Nina (what a great girl), a few battle royals, throwdowns, and a couple of real slobbernockers, the spread of seven foot woman like an infectious disease, Love Seed Momma FIGHT, club night 3-5 rm. 206, the ambiguously gay annotator, fun with saran wrap the worst and ugliest steward in the history of Sigma Chi, Michael John Loughran, and too many other things to list. A fond farewell and goodbye to Nasty, Swiggity, Sideburns, Ben, Phil, the Governor, Drey, Marshall, Shmelz, Spliffy, Spin, bla bla, wish and C-Sholtz (whoops). A special goodbye is extended to brother Eric Gopen, who after almost 10 years in the house is finally moving on to redder pastures. Remember guys, its not who you know its who you... Don't forget about the buffaloes, the good times and the bright future you've all ensured for this house and all future inhabitants of the sketchiest place on the hill. In hoc brothers.

Every man is the architect of his own fortune.

It is with great reluctance that the seniors of Theta Chi Beta Sigma Chapter leave the crumbling halls of fraternity #91. Arguably the finest class of young men to occupy the building since its founding, the senior class always set (but never achieved) remarkably high standards for itself. These seniors helped Theta Chi maintain a reputation of impeccable mediocrity on a campus that prides itself on the benefits of fraternity life. We have no trophies, no intramural championships, and no campus awards for outstanding achievement or community service. Some pundits even claim that our presence has driven this chapter into the ground.

However, the class of 2000 dismisses such claims to the phenomena of misunderstood genius. For history tells us that a man's true greatness is never fully appreciated until his time has passed. Magnificent individuals like Paulie Shore, Vanilla Ice, and Bob Saget were all taken for granted during their days of artistic genius. Sadly, it is only now that you find yourself searching for Full House reruns in syndication. Why didn't you enjoy Bob during his days in primetime? Or sing along more loudly to Ice-Ice Baby? And it's too late to play with the weasel, isn't it?

So let the story be told that it was not the implementation of a 21 million-dollar, anti-alcohol initiative known as Project Impact that broke the spirit of fraternity in Theta Chi, but rather the passage of an underappreciated group of seniors. Indeed, one day, years from now, when you venture back to lot #91, sober and teary-eyed, and find it transformed into university housing for the world affairs club - remember this. The past four years were not the dark days of this fraternity. They were its finest hour.

Senior Week

Dewey Beach/Lehigh University

"Mountain, get out of my way!"

Weaving stories and lessons from his divorce and his battle with multiple sclerosis and raising issues about school prayer and the lack of knowledgeable presidential candidates, Montel Williams urged the Lehigh graduates to define success by helping others as they were helped to get to this point in their lives.

Montel Williams addressed 1,116 Lehigh graduates on Sunday, June 4, 2000 at Lehigh's Murray H. Goodman Stadium, and he personally shook all graduates' hands as they left the stage upon receiving their diplomas.

Williams urged Lehigh's graduates to strive for success with his personal credo, "Mountain, get out of my way," yet admitted it was a sad day for him as he looked out at all the promising faces. "The legacy my generation has left you is one of prosperity," said Williams. "But we have also left you one of the greatest divides between the haves and have nots. It's time for you to think how you can help the have-nots, before they come knocking on your door. We are a nation filled with hatred, fear, ignorance and intolerance."

"A living is defined in this country by what you get, but a life should be defined by what you give," Williams said. "Most of you are going to get good jobs and climb the corporate ladder. But when you die, not one of those things included on your resume will be cited. All that people will say about you is what you gave back."

In the end, his message was one of hope. "Close your eyes and think of a person who helped you get here today, and I'm sure your memory will identify one or two important people," he said. "If you pledge to yourselves today to that someday one or two people will get to this point and you will be their memory, believe me, we can turn all this around." Written by: William Johnson

CLOSING

Our Lehigh years have been nothing short of amazing. Looking back on our freshman year, we were timid and inexperienced in the ways of the world. Not only have we grown academically, but we have matured socially and physically as well. Now we are prepared to take on what the world has to offer. We have reached the time when we can go out and fulfill our dreams, seek our fortunes, and make a powerful impact on the global community around us.

As we leave Lehigh, it is hard not to feel sentimental. Throughout our college years we have formed many strong friendships with fellow classmates, faculty and staff. We have grown to love Lehigh's campus, the sports teams we played on and the organizations we have participated in. Although our college career is just a small part of our entire life, it will remain an important detail that we will cherish in the future. It would be difficult to not say thank you to Lehigh for everything it has given us.

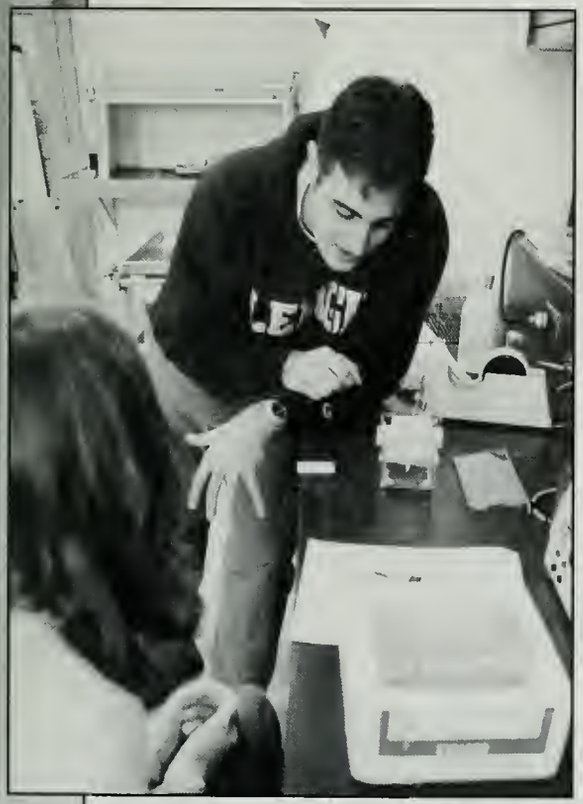
Features

The Lehigh-Lafayette Rivalry, Greek Week, Sundaze, and the International Bazaar were just a few of the major events that made our Lehigh experience special. It's hard to forget the mid-November Lehigh-Lafayette football games where records and standings never seemed to matter. The pure intensity of being at Goodman Stadium, watching along with a sold-out crowd, brought new meaning to school spirit. During the spring semester we always celebrated the end of the year with Sundaze–our own unique music festival. This year's musical guests included: the Sugar Hill Gang, Granian, Leftover Salmon, and Smokestack Lightning.



Academics

During the past four years we worked towards one common goal–to obtain our college diploma. Sometimes, including freshman year, our academics may have taken a back seat to our social lives, but in the end we were ultimately here to learn. Our experiences while daunting at times have been overall rewarding. We had professors we loved because they were direct and easy to understand and others that pushed us hard and were often resented. Sometimes it was hard to see what our professors were inevitably trying to accomplish. In retrospect, all of the hours we spent studying, running experiments, and preparing reports have developed a work ethic which will make us successful wherever our dreams may take us.

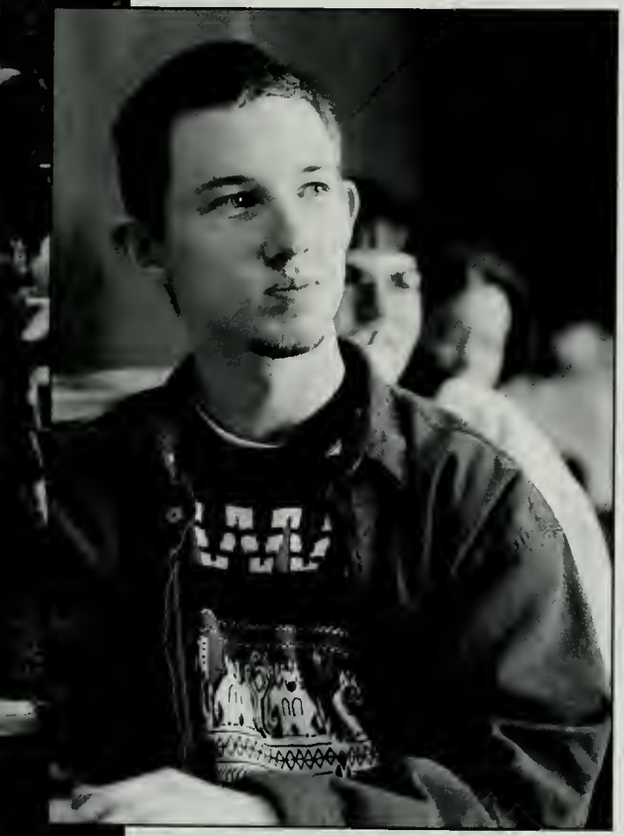
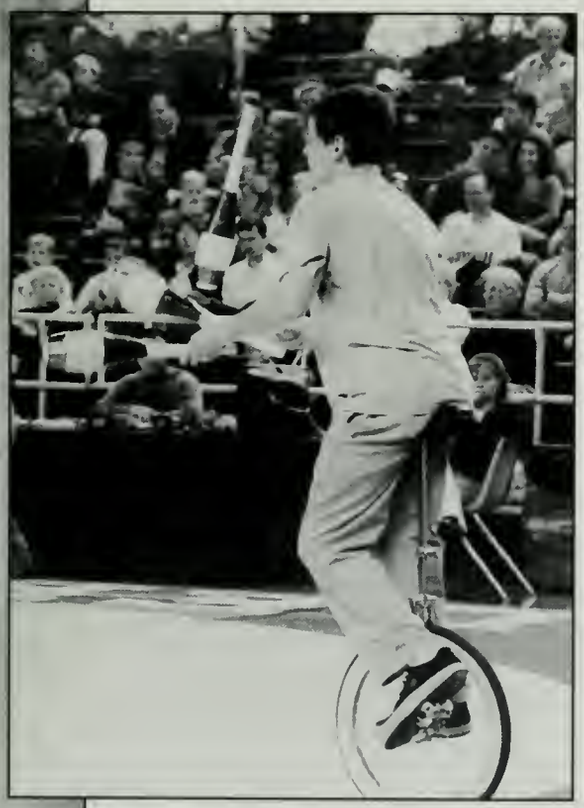
Athletics

The 1999-2000 academic year, was another incredible season for Lehigh Athletics. Women's swimming brought home the Patriot League title while the men's swim team claimed second place. In the fall, Lehigh clinched Co-Patriot League Champion with Colgate after a close game with Lafayette College on November 20th. The 1999 season was the second consecutive year that Lehigh claimed the Patriot League Football Championship. Lehigh Wrestling also had an incredible year claiming the team title at the 2000 EIWA Championship and a 7th place finish at the NCAA tournament. Four Lehigh wrestlers received All-American honors at the NCAA National Championships.



Undergraduates

Freshman year we entered Lehigh University as young and inexperienced high schoolers. We were still accustomed to the supervision of our parents and not fully prepared for the freedom and the responsibility that college life brought. As sophomore year arrived we were used to college life and ready to take on a heavier academic load. We returned to good friends and a familiar campus. Junior year tested our academic limits as we were one step closer to entering the real world. Junior year also brought a lot of responsibility in the form of leadership roles and summer internships. We began to realize what the Lehigh family was all about.



Organizations

Getting involved in an activity or a club sport allowed us to learn more about our majors and explore interests in other fields. Of course learning through an organization was often more fun than attending class because we chose to get involved. Being a club officer, an editor, or a team captain allowed us to gain valuable leadership experience and often tested our already busy schedules and organization skills. We learned that classmates aren't always reliable and that patience and perseverance were good qualities to obtain. Through our involvement we met many people outside of our majors and became friends after many hours of practice, meetings, and planning.

Living

Freshman year everyone lived in on-campus dorms. Most of us had our first experience living with roommates and dealing with the ups and downs that came with them. In the end, most of us could say that our first roommate ended up being a good friend. Sophomore year we certainly had more options. Because another year in a dorm didn't appeal to everyone, many of us chose to live in fraternities, sororities, or on-campus apartments which had a more homey feel. By junior and senior year, most of us were living off-campus and getting our first glimpse at the 'real world' we would enter when we graduated. We had our first experience dealing with landlords and paying for utilities. Living off-campus gave us more independence and made us more aware of the community beyond Lehigh's campus.

Seniors

On June 4th, 2000, our time at Lehigh came to an end. We finally received our diplomas and were ready to move on to the next big adventure. Although it was hard to say good-bye to close friends, it was time to follow our dreams and prove what we could do. Hopefully, Lehigh has not only provided us with the knowledge we need, but the skills to make a powerful impact on the world around us. Lehigh has taught us to approach each challenge in a different way and to have the confidence to always try new things. We are no longer a part of the small Lehigh community but members of a larger global society. Congratulations to the Class of 2000!

epitome 2000

I would like to thank everyone who helped make the Epitome 2000 possible. In August, the leadership team began the planning process by taking a trip to State College, PA, to visit the Jostens Printing Plant. While there, we finalized our plans for this year's theme, DETAILS. With much excitement, we met with Dave Hartnett, our plant representative, Bob Eyster, the art director, and with Phil Klein, our sales representative. After two days of hard work, we created the preliminary designs which resulted in this 124th volume of the Epitome. Thank you to everyone at Jostens, including everyone behind the scenes, for making the Lehigh yearbook a success. Special thanks to Dave Hartnett and Phil Klein for their advice and continued support throughout the entire year.

I would also like to thank Mark Huff, our DaVor representative, for another successful year of senior portraits. Your support and creative suggestions help our book to continually improve. Thank you also to all of the candid photographers including Anthony Barbacane, the customer service representatives, and senior portrait photographers. Our photography has looked better.

Thank you also to George Baker and Christmas City Studios for their hard work on the undergraduate portraits. You always came through no matter how many changes we needed, no matter how soon.

My deepest thanks and gratitude goes to all the hard working editors and staff members, who without reward, spent countless hours in the yearbook office. Without your dedication and commitment the yearbook would not have turned out this incredible. During the year it seemed like our theme, details, took on a new meaning. As we tried to create beauty in the 'details,' it often felt like frustration was hidden in the details. In the end, we produced a yearbook that you can all be proud of. Much luck to Vicki Hagnevik and Allison Mack as they begin the Epitome 2001.

Last but not least, I would like to recognize Linda Lipko and Diane Dymek, the Epitome advisor and assistant respectively, for their advice, support and friendship throughout the past five years. You both made my Lehigh experience unbelievable.

Thank you everyone,

Andrew Hartmann
